EMBROIDER WHERE YOU HAVE NEVER EMBROIDERED BEFORE

Instructions for embroidering the backs of hats

Cut a piece of adhesive backing large enough to cover the sewing field. Place the backing on the underside of the frame sticky side up.

It is helpful to draw the arch of the back of the cap on the backing to serve as a line-up mark.

If your hat has an adjustable strap, open it for increased flexibility.

When embroidering the back of your hat, there is no need to use the bill clamp.
